Generic medicines reimbursement - monthly insights

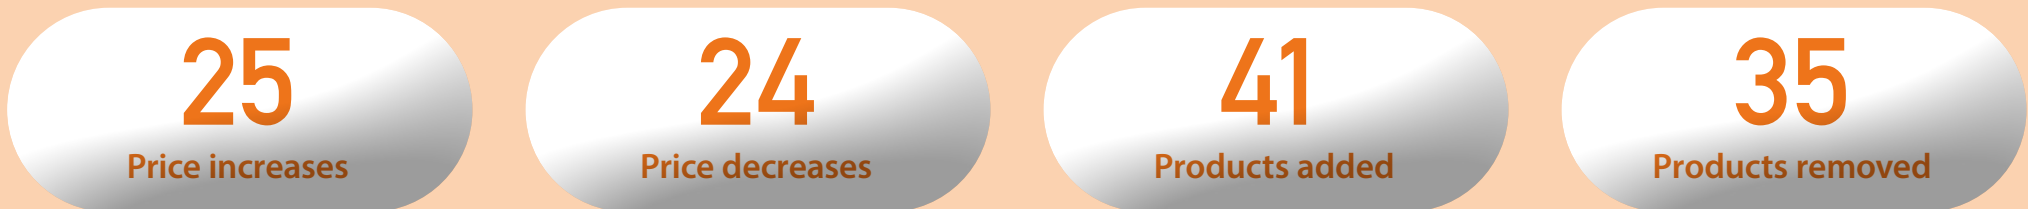

Accord UK highlights key data to provide context into the trends that have impacted generic medicine reimbursement. Recent insights use revised IQVIA volume collection methodology, which may cause variation from previous publications.

Concessions: April 2025

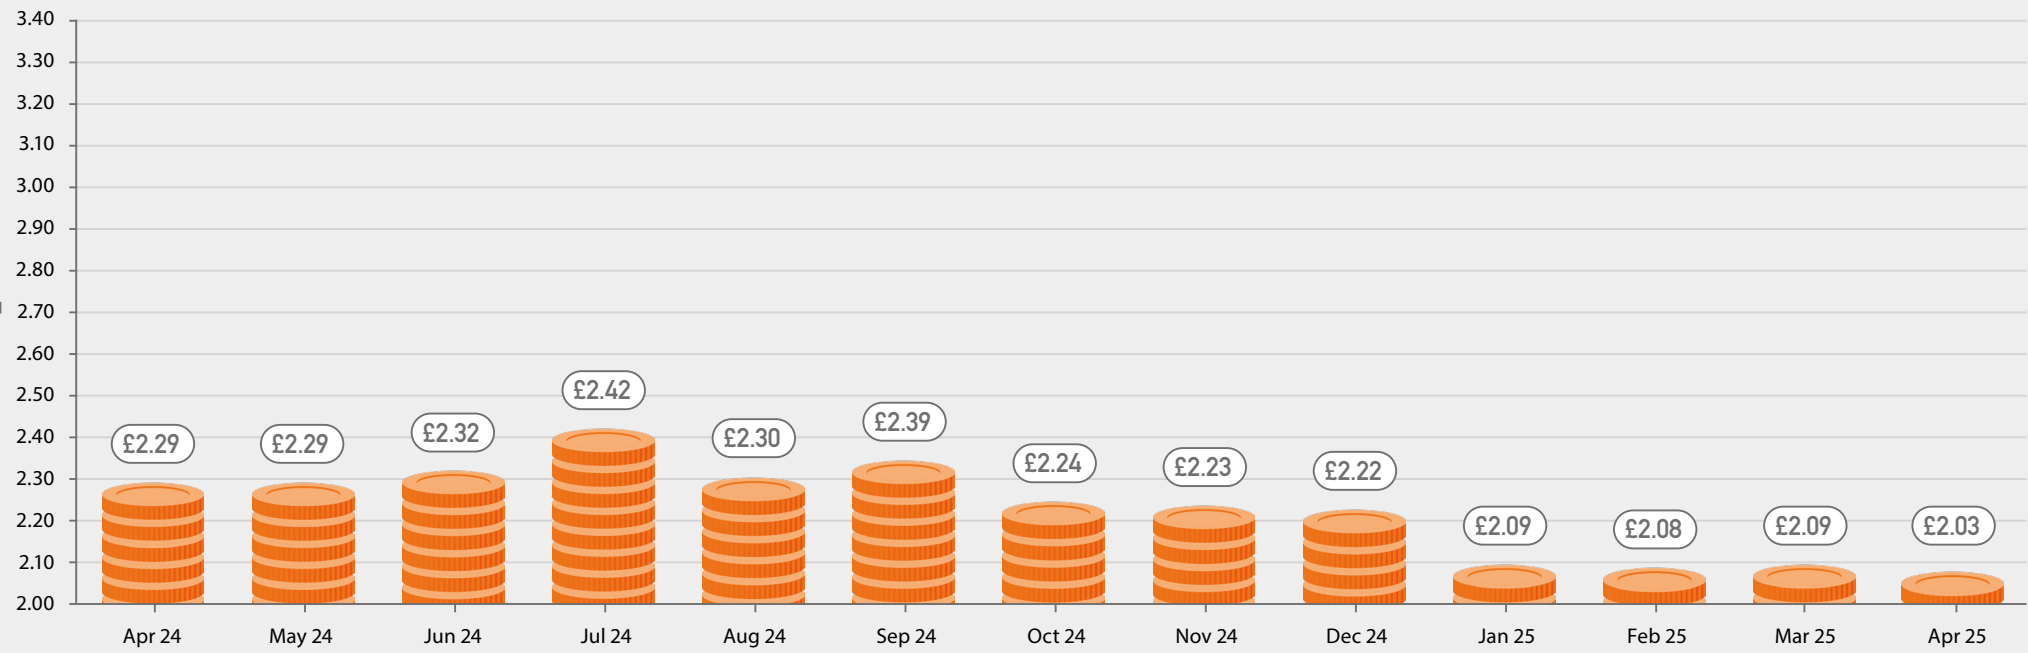

This chart demonstrates the gap between concession value and tariff*, for concessionary products, and how that has changed over the past 18 months. It also shows the variation in the number of published price concessions over the same period.
